
"UNLIMITED CREATIVE THINKING"—This Ford FX-Atmos (the "FX" stands for future experimental) was conceived by automotive stylists as representing "one of many avenues which styling could take in the future." It will be shown in Chicago this week, but is not proposed as a future production vehicle. It is 220 inches long, 48 inches high and 79 inches wide. The driver's seat is in the center; steering is by handgrips controlling a power steering unit.

The Answer

The Recognize This? picture on Page A-29 is the solarium atop the White House. It came out this week that President Eisenhower sometimes broils steaks there.
